To Whom It May Concern,

Allison worked for my company, Chesler/Perlmutter Productions, this summer as an executive producer on two made-for-TV movies which aired on The Hallmark Channel this past December. Although she came highly recommended, her experience was more heavily weighted in theatre than in film and television production. I was very impressed by Allison's knowledge, intelligence and work ethic. Her experience easily translated into the skills necessary to become an important asset in our productions. She was initially hired to work on only one project, but she was so helpful that we extended her contract to cover work on a second project.

Allison has much to offer, yet is always eager to learn. She is a smart, go-getter with excellent people skills. I look forward to seeing where her career will take her, and to working with her again.

Best,

Lewis Chesler
